Dear Commissioner,

I am a student at Eldorado Highschool and my class has just finished reading sections of Upton Sinclair's The Jungle. My class and I were appalled to find out that the processing of downed (sick and injured) cattle is still going on today. We had thought that the Food and Drug Act of 1906 would have stopped the processing of downed animals. Please support the Downed Animal Protection Act (docket # 98P-0151/CPI). Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Jennifer D. Morrow
